

The only hope for humanity is; Socialism!

Imperialists define the 21st century as a century full of upheavals. As a result of globalisation, the impoverishment in the world and sharpening of antagonisms at both sides increases the fears of the imperialists. The structural crisis as big and deep as the 1929 crisis is deepening every passing day. The attacks of imperialists in every field on a world scale is continuing in order to shift the burden of crisis on to the shoulders of toilers. Imperialism has panicked by the crisis that has previously broken in Japan, Russia, Indonesia, South Korea, Argentina and Brazil and lastly in Turkey. The bourgeoisie is trying to prevent the spreading of crisis by attempting to preserve it locally and for this aim, after the 1998 Asian crisis, through World Bank and IMF has set aside large funds. In addition, through the harmonisation programs they are attempting to prevent the growing anti-imperialist movements of the impoverished masses. However, their efforts have proved to be fruitless. As in the Argentinean case, these harmonisation programs have resulted in a collapse from above and the colonial and semi-colonial countries have come to a point of bankruptcy under the heavy burden of debts. As the crisis and the re-structuring programs were in danger of collapse, they are continuing to take measures in order to make their plans work. The rise of Bush to power in USA and the new directions of the Pentagon show a new concept of war on a world scale. The bourgeoisie is getting organised in order to oppress and make ineffective (or pacify) the developing anti-imperialist and anti-capitalist movement with its already started restructuring programs, for the immediate intervention against the social upheavals. However, this organisation is not developing as they wished due to the nature of capitalism. Despite all opposite propaganda, the imperialist bourgeoisie is increasing the competition and accelerating the division of camps. The increase in the local agreements, the merger of monopolies is the result of the growing struggle for markets. The European bourgeoisie has gone so far as to form its own army shows the level this competition has reached.

Turkey has come to face to face with a local upheaval in the world imperialist crisis. While the poverty of the masses is growing, under the programs of the IMF, the fascist state that American imperialism made Turkey gendarme in order to control the Middle-East, Balkans and Caucasus is going under restructuring. The level of poverty of the labouring masses is growing, social rights are curbed every passing day, and many sectors are sold to imperialist monopolies at cheap prices. The toilers that resist against the worsening living standards are murdered with torture under the fascist laws. The sections of the population that shall go to streets against the capitalist crisis are facing to be controlled with a wider wave of attacks. From among these sections, the political prisoners that are the most dynamic force, which could not be captured, were filled into prisons into the isolation cells with massacre on 19th December 2000. 28 of them were murdered and hundreds of them were injured. At present, hundreds of revolutionary prisoners have been continuing their death fast resistance for 260 days. During this resistance, 27 persons have fallen martyrs and hundreds of them became paralysed as a result of the intervention of the fascist state.

Millions of people who are facing starvation and poverty and their social rights being curbed, are channelling their anger against capitalism and are demonstrating their anger by attending all kinds of activities. In many countries, they are showing their anti-capitalist anger by taking part in many activities. The summits of imperialist organisations such as IMF, World Bank, European Union, World Trade Organisation (WTO), and G8 are shaken by militant mass protests. In the face of the development of militant anti-capitalist movements that have began in Seattle, and then in London, Davos, Sidney, Melbourne, Prague, Nice, Posto Alegre, Quebec, Gottebourg and lastly in Salzburg, the imperialists are scared that this will prevent them from implementing their harmonisation programs.

It is our task to raise our anti-capitalist resistance in order that we increase the fears of these bloodsuckers, which exploit and massacre billions of toilers in order that they maximise their profits. The importance of international solidarity is increasing in order to overthrow this slavery system by channelling the anger of billions of toilers who are oppressed under the exploitation of the capitalist system. Capitalism brings destruction to humankind. As a burning issue, in the coming period, the historical task of the working class to unite the rising anti-capitalist wave with the aim of socialism and bury capitalism in the dustbin of history is coming more and more to the forefront.
