Green Deal Going Local

Mr. Tzitzikostas

President of the European Committee of Regions, Governor of Central Macedonia Region

Mr. Espadas

Chair of the CoR working group «Green Deal Going Local», Mayor of Seville

“ Every day local and regional governments are bringing Europe closer to people. They are protecting our planet and our communities, paving the way to a carbon-neutral future. It is in our villages, towns, cities and regions where the European Green Deal needs to be translated into real concrete projects to drive a green recovery. This collection of over 200 stories of best practices is testament that locally, regions and cities are leading the fight against climate change, making Europe green, resilient and sustainable”

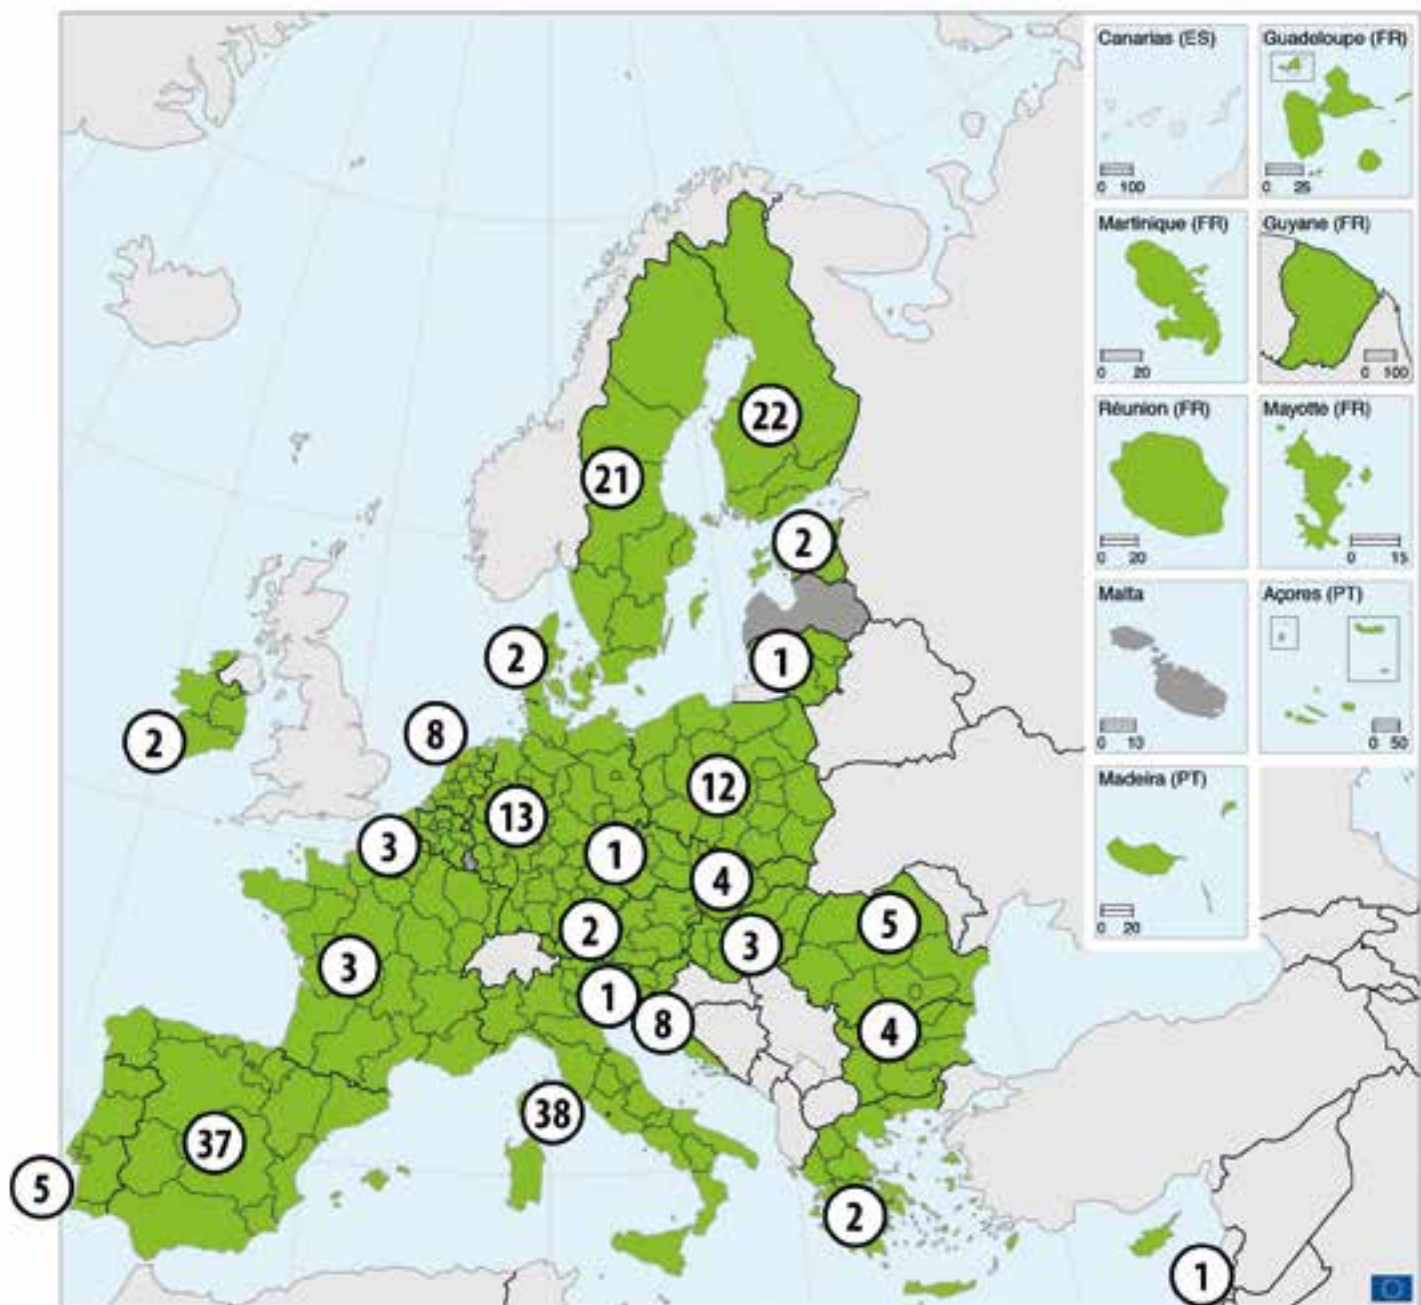

“ The CoR has launched an open call for best practices on the Green Deal.

Our Members have replied with numerous projects, from adapting to climate change, to reducing emissions through sustainable mobility. Protecting biodiversity, investing in energy efficiency and renewables, and many other projects show that our councillors, mayors and presidents of regions are the stewards of the European Green Deal going local!”

This is an initiative of the 'Green Deal Going Local' working group

At the European Committee of the Regions, the 'Green Deal Going Local' working group aims at placing cities and regions at the core of the European Green Deal.

It ensures that both the EU's sustainable growth strategy and the COVID-19 recovery plan translate into direct funding for cities and regions and tangible projects for every territory.

The 'Green Deal Going Local' working group has three specific objectives:

- To make the voice of cities and regions heard on the numerous policy initiatives under the European Green Deal.
- To place cities and regions at the heart of EU institutions' policies promoting carbon neutrality.
- To highlight achievements and best practices of local and regional authorities in implementing local green transition, and facilitate replication across the EU.

European Committee of the Regions

Created in 1994, after the entry into force of the Maastricht Treaty, the European Committee of the Regions is the EU's assembly of 329 regional and local representatives from all 27 Member States, representing over 447 million Europeans. Its main objectives are to involve regional and local authorities and the communities they represent in the EU's decision-making process and to inform them about EU policies. The European Commission, the European Parliament and the Council have to consult the Committee in policy areas affecting regions and cities. It can appeal to the Court of Justice of the European Union as a means of upholding EU law where there are breaches to the subsidiarity principle or failures to respect regional or local authorities.
